This week at Fair Furlong

Parsley and Urfa class had fantastic trips to Chew Valley Lake this week. They enjoyed finding out about different woodland creatures and then sorting them into their habitats. While on a nature walk they looked for lots of different signs of autumn and collected interesting leaves and twigs to make autumn pictures. After lunch they explored a little further and found the play area! Lots of fun and learning had by all!

On Wednesday, the EYFS enjoyed a Busy Builders day when they helped Mr Parcell build bug hotels! Mr Parcell and the children looked at a range of tools and Mr Parcell showed the children what each tool could do. We had lots of fun collecting grass and leaves for the bug hotels and look forward to seeing how many little creatures will come to stay!

Sage Class to Bristol Aquarium

On Wednesday 4th October Sage class went to Bristol Aquarium. We saw lots of different underwater animals. We saw an octopus, a sting ray and lots of sharks! We even saw lots of clown fish, like Nemo!

Fish Finger Thursday - Thank you to everyone that had a fish finger school meal on Thursday. The children enjoyed meeting Finn Fishfinger and Kelly Ketchup and winning some lovely prizes. This will help us greatly towards our funding.

Star Anise class assembly - They worked extremely hard together to find facts about the plant and make sure everyone had an important part to play. They've all done a fantastic job!

Book Fair - Book Fair from Monday 9th October

Come to our book fair and earn free books for our school! There are a range of books available to buy including books by Roald Dahl our Author of the Term! Again this week we have had complaints about the driving and parking of some of our parents at the beginning and end of the school day. We understand that you may only be parked for 10 minutes while collecting or dropping off but it is not ok to park across people's driveways or to park in disabled zones. It is a very busy road so you need to be driving carefully and not exceeding the speed limit! We have advised the residents that if they witness any of this they must inform the police, we need to be thinking about the safety of our community.

Menu for the week beginning 9 October 2017 - Week 3:

A polite reminder - please can you be mindful of the language that you're using when waiting outside of classrooms for your children. We have had reports of children hearing language and conversations that are really not suitable for the school environment. If we find people cannot adhere to this we will be forced to ask parents to wait outside of the school gates when picking up their children.

Attendance - Star Anise class and Sage class have won the chance to play Classopoly this week as highest class attendance winners. Star Anise have won a park adventure and Sage class have won milkshakes for the class. Well done to everyone.
